

FrontSide

BackSide

Included with the postcard is a small box, wrapped in decorated paper. Inside the box is a strange device (ooc you would recognize it as a record player), a description of it as playing a traditional Christmas song with Quotidian children singing, with instructions for use.

When played, the record sounds like this:

https://soundcloud.com/openai_audio/classic-pop-in-the-style-of-frank-sinatra