

Vulkerath, esteemed friend,

We hope this finds you well. Do not think of this as a requirement for a response to our last message.

However, your friendship, and your willingness to continue talking to us gives us hope. We beg of you a favor: Will you allow our Intern Jaimie to begin writing to you? Intern Jaimie has much to learn in the way of communicating with outsiders. Your understanding and friendship would be a safe place for them to do so. We do not believe the other nations would be as understanding.

Again, I am sorry for the sudden request.
